Rich Gold Find Announced on Esperanza Inlet

Official Statement of Federal Mines Department Says Values Running to $1,500 Per Ton Have Been Located on Zeballos River—Area Is Recommended to Prospectors

DISCOVERY of gold-bearing quartz on Zeballos River, Vancouver Island, running as high as $1,500 to the ton, is announced by the Dominion Government geological survey in a bulletin issued from Ottawa. While the veins located so far are narrow, the locality is one that gives excellent promise, according to Dr. W. H. Collins, director of the survey branch of the Federal Department of Mines.

"Dr. H. C. Gunning, whose party operated along the Zeballos River, Vancouver Island, reports the presence, in this region, of spectacular gold occurrences," Dr. Collins announced. "Values as high as $1,500 to the ton have been reported, he states, though the veins containing these values that have yet been found are narrow and have not been traced far.

DISTRICT NEGLECTED
The country is heavily timbered, with rugged topography, and has consequently received little attention. The area is believed to be a continuation of the gold belt which runs along the West Coast of the Island. Prospecting that would involve a large capital outlay is recommended."

Dr. Collins makes the announcement in recommending two Canadian districts to the attention of prospectors, the Zeballos River on the West Coast and Gods Lake district, Saskatchewan.

EXCELLENT PROMISE
In prefacing his remarks about the favorable indications in these localities, the bulletin quotes Dr. Collins: "I could name at least two fields which give excellent promise of becoming important contributors to Canada's gold output, though it is doubtful if either of them will produce a mine comparable to that of the larger Porcupine or Kirkland Lake properties."

The Zeballos River, fourteen miles in length, flows south into the head of Zeballos Arm, on Vancouver Island, which is directly north of Nootka Island. The regular steamer track after leaving Nootka is by way of Tsis Canal and Tsis Narrows to Esperanza Inlet, passing the mouth of Zeballos Arm.

By reason of the heavy forest cover, which goes as high as 50,000 feet to the top, the locality has not received much attention from prospectors in the past, but being easy of access, it is expected that when the full details of Dr. Gunning's report are available prospectors will make a more careful examination of the district.

FRANK LE ROY IS CANDIDATE

Last Year's Mayoralty Candidate Will Seek Council Seat as Alderman

Frank Le Roy, last year's candidate for mayor under the banner of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association, yesterday announced he would seek election to the council this year as an alderman.

His announcement brings the total of candidates in the field for aldermanic honors to five, which is the number of vacancies that have to be filled.

Of the five retiring aldermen, only one has announced he will seek re-election. Alderman R. T. Williams is this candidate. Alderman W. T. Strath, another of the retiring members, will not seek re-election. Other candidates already definitely announced as seeking aldermanic seats are: Arthur Hinder, C. H. McMillan and Charles Gilver.

NINE IN FIELD
Altogether there are nine candidates in the field for civic election. There are three running for mayor. They are Mayor David Leeming, ex-Alderman E. B. Andros and George Crump. One candidate has been announced for school trustee. This candidate is John Wood. No others have yet been announced, although many names have been mentioned as possible candidates.

In making his announcement yesterday, Mr. Le Roy said he was running on a policy of "not another penny in taxes on homes." The remainder of his platform would conform with that of last year, when he sought mayoralty honors.

Insurance May Be Debated in House

OTTAWA, Oct. 28 (CP).—The House of Commons tonight closed shop for the week-end in anticipation of a vote Monday on the Anglo-Canadian Treaty.

It was reported in the lobbies a move would be made Monday to bring before the House financial matters concerning the Sun Life Assurance Company, but this was not expected to postpone the treaty discussion.

It was understood a motion would be made to adjourn the treaty debate to permit Sun Life matters to be discussed. A ruling of the speaker would determine whether this course could be followed.

Police Discover Nail-Studded Clubs and Other Deadly Tools Alleged to Be Listed in Communists' Handbooks in Vehicles Accompanying "Hunger Marchers" to Hyde Park

LONDON, Oct. 28 (CP).—Lively as was yesterday's riot of hooligans in Hyde Park, the authorities disclosed today it might have been worse. Sir John Gilmour, Home Secretary, informed the House of Commons that when the police stopped a motor truck accompanying the advancing columns of idle at Hammersmith yesterday they discovered inside, buried under a generous supply of food, 154 nail-studded ash clubs and burlap bags filled with heavy chunks of concrete and iron bolts.

May Dredge River For Missing Gold

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Six men and two women were questioned in the police line-up today as police prepared to dredge the East River for a number of gold and silver bars three of the men were alleged to have pitched into the stream from the Williamsburg Bridge.

The bars were variously estimated to be worth from $25,000 to $50,000, and were said by police to have been taken from a plant in Brooklyn, in a robbery Tuesday morning. All the prisoners denied any connection with the robbery.

New Park Suggested At Thetis Lake for Future Development

Alderman John A. Worthington Submits Ambitious Proposal to City Council—Engineer to Prepare Plans and Report on Estimated Cost

DEVELOPMENT of Thetis Lake and Little Thetis Lake as an all-year playground for Victorians was proposed by Alderman John Worthington, chairman of the parks committee, at yesterday's meeting of the public works committee. As a result of his proposal, Engineer F. M. Preston was instructed to bring in a plan of development along the lines suggested with an estimate on the cost of the work, which would be spread over a period of years.

CONTACTS LEND VALUE TO PACT

Lumbermen Says Ottawa Share Done—Completion Now Up to "Producers"

VANCOUVER, Oct. 28 (CP).—The value of the Imperial Economic Conference in Ottawa lies not entirely in the agreements reached, but also in the contacts made. J. H. McDonald, of New Westminster, chairman of the British Columbia Lumbermen's delegation to the conference, declared here today.

"The conference was the most constructive force ever attempted to direct greater consideration of marketing where reciprocity could be expected," he said.

"We will be delinquent in our duty if we do not co-operate with the Government in endeavoring to make the agreements effective. Ottawa has done its share, now it is up to the producers."

Salvage Tug Goes To Assistance of Prince of Wales

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Oct. 28 (AP).—The motorship Prince of Wales, in service again after running aground last August on Vancouver Island, was today being towed off Foggy Bay, south of here. The salvage tug Akutan was ordered out to meet the vessel.

When the Prince of Wales grounded on Vancouver Island August 1, twenty-one passengers and the crew of seven were taken off by another vessel. Later it was pulled off and repaired.

IS CRITICAL OF MISSIONS

Laymen Board Finds U.S. Clinical Work in Orient Disappointing

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Outspoken criticism of medical missions in the Far East is contained in a further report issued by Albert L. Scott, chairman of the Laymen's Foreign Missions Inquiry, sponsored and financed by laymen of seven Protestant denominations.

The report says, in part: "The impression gained from our study of the clinical work of American missions in the Orient was in general one of disappointment. The day of the pioneer is past, and the professional work of the modern mission medical centres is too often inferior to the nearby government and other non-mission hospitals whose creation their example inspired."

MAY BECOME LIABILITY
"Such service tends in time to become a liability rather than an asset to the Christian cause, no matter how earnest the evangelistic efforts may be. It cannot but suggest also that other mission enterprises, less readily evaluated, are likewise inferior."

"The Christian forces should hasten to improve the professional quality of their medical work, even though to do this many must be closed, in order that those that remain shall not only serve their patients well, but also add strength to the mission cause in general."

"Our hope is that in the future the work of the medical missionaries will come more and more under professional supervision. Only a medical man can judge accurately of medical work."

NONE HURT IN HOSPITAL FIRE

Scores of Children Removed From Danger by Brave Sisters

QUEBEC, Ont. 28 (CP).—Undaunted in the face of extreme danger from flames and smoke, nuns of the Order of the Dominican Sisters of the Infant Jesus today moved quickly but swiftly to remove scores of children to safety from a burning wing of their hospital on the outskirts of the city. The children were placed in a wing away from the blaze and none was injured.

Aided by a large force of fire fighters, the nuns managed to save all children, and an hour's work by the firemen extinguished what for a time looked like a serious fire.

ORIGIN NOT KNOWN
Hospital officials could not at once explain the origin of the outbreak, but persons in the vicinity said that the flames broke out suddenly and one woman, whose house faces the institution, declared it appeared as if the result of an explosion.

Dark, pungent smoke rolling down the corridors at the top of the affected wing warned nuns and nuns in time. As three successive alarms were rung in, the hospital staff rushed to the children's wing and started the evacuation of their helpless charges. Firemen added to the rescue squad, and as flames burst through the tarred roof of the wing, the last children were carried safely from the building to another part of the hospital.

MAN FROZEN IN WYOMING STORM

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Oct. 28 (AP).—The storm-swept Big Horn Mountains today yielded a frozen body, believed to be that of Dillon McKinnon, seventeen, of Greybull, Wyo., one of three hunters trapped in the mountains when a storm struck there a week ago.

McKinnon was trapped in the mountain region at the same time Fred Demmel, of Sheridan, and Del P. Youkum, of Columbine, disappeared. No trace has been found of them.

Tonight's subzero weather and swirling snow enfolded the crest of the Big Horns west of here, and apparently had marooned a searching party headed by veteran rangers.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 28 (CP).—Roland Starks, Opposition member for White Bay in the Newfoundland Legislature, was arrested tonight on seventeen charges of fraud in connection with distribution of relief to the unemployed.

Arraigned in the magistrate's court, Starks was released on bail.

Women Arrested On Theft Charge

Two young women were arrested yesterday by Chief of Equinault Police H. W. W. Pecknold on a charge of theft. The arrests follow the robbery of a hot dog stand operated by John Pincus on Esplanade Road near the Coach and Horses beer parlor.

The store was entered by the two women last Tuesday night and a large quantity of cigarettes and candy was taken. The two women will appear in the Equinault Police Court this morning.

FIRE of unknown origin caused the destruction of the fish packer Diamond, of Vancouver, yesterday afternoon, according to messages received here by the Radiotelegraph Department of the Dominion Government. The vessel, manned by a crew of two, was off Trail Islands, near Sechart, when the boat was discovered. The crew was removed by another small boat, and the charred hull towed to an anchorage off Trail Islands.

RONNING ELECTED TO ALBERTA SEAT

Farmer Candidate Wins on Second Count in Camrose By-Election By 400 Majority

CAMROSE, Alta., Oct. 28.—C. A. Ronning, U.F.A. candidate in the provincial by-election held at Camrose on October 25, was declared elected at Camrose tonight when the final count was taken. Ronning completed the final counting of the returns from the forty-nine polls. Mr. Ronning was elected by a majority of 400 over River M. Westwick, Liberal. He succeeds the late Hon. Vernon W. Smith, Minister of Railways and Telephones.

The final standing was: Ronning, U.F.A., 2,812; Westwick, Liberal, 2,412.

The returning officer counted the 184 votes given F. P. Layton, the Conservative candidate, who finished third on October 25. Inasmuch as Ronning, after the first count, had 2,807, he received only 335 of Layton's second choices, and Westwick was given 465 of the Tory second choices. There were, apparently, 324 voters who "plumped" for the Conservative representative.

Overwhelming Vote Expresses Confidence of Chamber of Deputies in Premier Before Leaving for Geneva With New French Scheme for Short-Term Conscriptive System in Europe

International Control and Investigation Are Included

PARIS, Oct. 29 (AP).—The Chamber of Deputies early today gave Premier Edouard Herriot a mandate to present at the Geneva Disarmament Conference a plan which calls for the abolition of all personal or permanent armies of Europe—such as the German Reichswehr—in favor of a short term conscriptive system. The Premier had informed the Chamber he must have its confidence before he went to Geneva. He got it by the overwhelming vote of 430 to 20.

GROCERY GIRLS ROUT BANDITS

Win Battle of Brooms Versus Guns and Save the Cash

VANCOUVER, Oct. 28 (CP).—Miss K. Atkins and Miss E. Henderson, clerks in the London Grocery, Victoria Drive, routed two would-be bandits this afternoon with brooms.

The men entered the store, and when one attempted to open the cash register behind the counter, Miss Atkins grappled with him. He tried to hit her over the head with a gun, but she broke away, grabbed a broom and let him have it.

Meanwhile the other bandit made for the till, and was met by Miss Henderson, who grabbed another broom and went for him.

"There goes the cash," cried one man, and both dashed from the store.

Ten minutes later two gunmen entered the Piggy Wiggy store at Sixteenth and Cambie, and held up the grocery and meat departments, obtaining $80 from the former and $30 from the latter. The bandits escaped in a car which later was discovered to have been stolen.

Urge Bonus on Wheat And Issue of Notes

CALGARY, Oct. 28 (CP).—Refusing to withdraw any requests for a bonus on the 1932 wheat production, the United Farmers of Alberta executive tonight sent a telegram to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett suggesting the bonus be paid and an issue of Dominion notes made to meet the cost.

Former Minister Defends Some of So-Called C.N.R. Extravagances

OTTAWA, Oct. 28 (CP).—While he was disposed to criticize sections of the bill based on the report of the Royal Commission on Transportation, introduced in the Senate yesterday and moved for second reading today, he was assured it would get all the necessary consideration when it was referred to the railway committee, Rt. Hon. George P. Graham told the Upper Chamber today.

The former Minister of Railways defended some of the so-called extravagances of the Canadian National system, remarking that what looked like extravagances this year were only normal expenditures a few years ago.

Senator Graham was the only one to speak in the debate, which was adjourned until next Thursday afternoon.

CANADIAN BID MAY BE TAKEN

Is Lowest Tender for Fir Ties for Alaska Railway at $30 Per 1,000 Ft.

SEATTLE, Oct. 28.—A tentative acceptance by J. R. Ummei, purchasing agent here for the Alaska Railroad, of a bid for Canadian lumber to be used to provide 3,037,500 feet of treated fir ties, drew the opposition of lumber men here today.

Ummei said later he had suspended a final decision on the Canadian bid, which was not submitted until after the time limit had expired and while the American bids were being opened.

"We took the bid subject to the ruling by the headquarters of the road in Anchorage," Ummei said, adding that the road was permitted to use foreign material if the bid is low.

The Western Wood Preserving Company, of Seattle, was low among the original twelve bidders, with an offer of $24 per 1,000 feet, delivered at the dock in Seattle.

Later a representative of a firm entered with a bid on the same number of $30 per 1,000 feet at Seward, Alaska, which figured still lower, he explained.

For single men there and that the development work could be carried out in this manner. If this were not possible, then the city could consider the transporting of men to the proposed park area.

As the park exists at present, it constitutes a serious fire hazard, and one that might be costly to the city's waterworks. The two lakes are not used for supplying water to the city as they are below the level of the reservoir. The area is underbrush surrounding the lake that should be cleaned up to remove the fire hazard, he stated.

CELEBRATE WITH MARTIAL REVIEW

Premier Mussolini Addresses Fifteen Thousand Veterans on Tenth Anniversary of Fascism

ROME, Oct. 28 (AP).—Fifteen thousand disabled war veterans gathered today for the tenth anniversary of the birth of Italian Fascism.

At the ceremony, wearing the uniform of a commanding general of the militia instead of the corporal's uniform which he usually wears, the premier was surrounded by 100 foreign military and naval attaches. This was the first time the foreign officials had participated in a review of this kind.

Before the ceremony the premier, dressed in the uniform of a general, led the war cripples of his black-shirted legion along the new "Empire Street," a highway through the hills which runs from the city to the Colosseum.

Twenty thousand children, singing the Fascist hymn, greeted the premier as he passed. He then led the two-thousand-year-old Colosseum. Back again at the Palazzo Venezia, the premier strode out on the balcony from his office, waving and shouting "Viva Italia!"

"We in Rome have seen great celebrations," he said, "but I think none has been so impressive, so moving, as this, which marks the tenth anniversary of Fascism. Forward, then, to the second revolution with high faith and undiminished energy. Long live the Fascist revolution."

This was a national holiday in Italy, climax of a week of celebration.

IS CRITICAL OF MISSIONS

TIED TOO MUCH

"The missionary in charge of a hospital has in the past tried to serve in two capacities—evangelist and as doctor. One result has been that, in his efforts to reach as many persons as possible, he has tended to admit to the wards, but especially to the out-patient department, far more patients than he could adequately care for."

"Another result, and several of the best medical missionaries have admitted that this is a temptation which they must stoutly resist, is that they have allowed their evangelistic efforts to serve as a substitute for their much more difficult medical and surgical work and for the studying necessary to keep themselves abreast of the progress of their profession."

DIVIDED ON WATER RATE

of our own taxpayers," Alderman Worthington stated, in amending his motion.

Alderman R. T. Williams said he was "fearful of such proposals" as the one introduced by the engineer, and supported Alderman Worthington in his motion.

INCREASED SALES

Questioned by the Mayor and Alderman Alex Peden, Engineer Preston said that by giving Oak Bay a higher water pressure the city would sell more water and thus derive a greater revenue than at present. He also stated that the new twenty-inch water main, the pressure in Oak Bay would not only be increased, but the same benefit would be felt in Victoria, inasmuch as Oak Bay would no longer be taking delivery from the main distribution system. This increased pressure in Victoria would result in a greater volume of water being sold, he explained.

At present the water agreement with Oak Bay has another six years to run. Under this agreement, Oak Bay pays at the rate of seven and one-half cents per 1,000 gallons.

From this Alderman Peden deduced that no fundamental change could be made in the agreement for another six years, but opponents of the proposal took the view that the improvements effected in the system opened the way for fresh negotiations.

NEW GOVERNOR TO BE CHOSEN

Appointment of Free State Viceregal Head Expected Next Month

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Oct. 28 (C.P.).—Reports were current in this capital tonight that a successor to James McNeill, retiring Governor-General of the Irish Free State, would be named in about a month's time.

There was no hint who the successor would be, although it was the idea of this city handing back its charter to the Government has never been considered by the City Council," stated City Clerk H. Bradley yesterday.

"Port Alberni is in splendid financial condition," far better than the majority of British Columbia cities, but like all cities is having a hard task in financing its relief problems. At a council meeting last Monday one of the aldermen jokingly remarked that the Mayor take the charter in his pocket and present it to the Hon. F. W. Jones. The remark was not even heard by some of the aldermen.

"This city has a wonderful asset and an untouchable source of revenue in the improvement tax. Whereas practically all other cities have used this source of revenue to the limit, Port Alberni has not even touched it, but of course may do so in the near future. What the city is trying to do is to get the Government to take over the relief problem, not to take over the charter," Mayor David Warnock and Mr.

GERMAN REACTION

BERLIN, Oct. 28 (AP).—Premier Herriot's speech in the Chamber of Deputies today was too late for official German reaction, but Berlin newspapers indicated clearly the spirit in which German Nationalists received his suggestion that the Reichswehr be abolished.

The Industrial Allgemeine Zeitung printed the speech extensively and copiously interspersed it with bracketed exclamations such as: "The headline was 'Scandalous Charges Against Germany.'"

The Deutsches Zeitung declared that "Herriot lies." It added a scornful subtitle, "No Country Has Disarmed More Than France."

"Innocent statements—lies and distortions," said The Boersen Zeitung, and The Lokalanzeiger declared that "Herriot again stirs the fire of passion."

The moderate newspapers were noncommittal.

FREE STATE RAILWAYS SUFFER

Railways of the Irish Free State declare that their condition is such that only the Government can save them. At a meeting of stockholders in Dublin, Sir Walter Nugent, the chairman, said that since 1924, when the Free State Government took over the railways, the company had operated exclusively to its detriment to amalgamate everything has gone wrong. The Railway Tribunal fixed the net standard revenue of the company at $8,480,275 a year, but enforced such heavy reductions in rates and charges that the company never had a chance of earning such a sum, and, despite stringent economies which threw 3,000 men out of employment, there was a yearly deficit of about $250,000.

MERGER WILL BE EFFECTED

Consolidation of Four Civic Departments Is Reaching Consummation

Consolidation of four major civic departments, affecting chiefly the assessor, treasurer and controller, probably will be effected at the Monday night meeting of the City Council, it was announced yesterday by Mayor David Leeming.

D. A. Macdonald, controller, has completed his report on the merger and will present it to the finance committee for consideration at its Monday afternoon meeting. Appended to the report is a list of recommendations.

TAX COLLECTIONS

It is understood that the assessor, George Okeil, also will be collector of taxes and other revenues and that the position of controller will be merged with that of treasurer.

The waterworks collection department will be combined with the collector's office, it is understood. The committee for consideration of the merger will be given separate quarters from the collection department.

How the personnel of the staff would be affected by these proposals could not be definitely ascertained, but it is understood that there will be at least three vacancies created.

nation, organization of mutual assistance, and obligatory arbitration.

France will accept an undetermined date reduction in the conscript term for all land forces in France proper, with these provisions:

1. Any formation contrary to such organization of any army—such as the Reichswehr—would be disbanded and police forces regulated.

2. International control of armaments would be organized, with provision for the right of investigation.

3. The Locarno Pact would be completed by regional pacts of mutual assistance so that every European nation would partake and equal the collection force for mutual assistance thus assured would be sufficient to repress aggression—with a section thoroughly organized and having powerful armament at its disposal.

4. The United States would accord those guarantees of security it had envisaged.

5. States that are members of the League of Nations would engage to fulfill all obligations under Article 16 of the League Covenant.

6. Arbitration would be obligatory for all states adhering to the new pact.

In his speech before the Chamber, Premier Herriot declared France would not allow the Disarmament Conference to sink. The new French plan, he said, was the one thing necessary to obtain for France the friends she needs.

HER MOANING KEPT HIM AWAKE

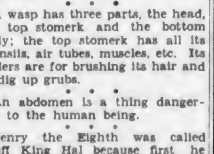

Arms and Legs Stiff with Rheumatism

NOW THEY BOTH TAKE KRUSCHEN

Something had to be done for this old couple. She could not sleep for pain, and he could not sleep for her moaning. He tells us how it all ended:

"My wife, who is 67 years of age, has suffered for years with rheumatism in the joints. At times, the pain was so bad that she had to drop anything that she carried in her hands. In the night, I was often awakened by her moaning, on account of the pains in her arms and legs. She was so stiff she could not climb the stairs.

About 12 months ago, she started taking Kruschen Salts, and after finishing the first bottle, she could use her fingers much better. So she continued to take it, and now she is so far recovered that she very seldom feels any pain. Now we both take Kruschen and have resolved that we will never be without it as long as we live."—P. J. P.

What caused her rheumatic pains was the sharp-edged uric acid crystals getting into her joints. The combination of the six salts in Kruschen dissolved away these crystals, and prevented them from forming again. That is the way Kruschen works with rheumatism, and that is why rheumatism cannot exist in the system that gets its "little daily dose" of Kruschen.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c and 75c per bottle.

Students Given Awards at Presentation Ceremonies

Scholarships and Bursaries Are Presented to Victoria College Pupils—Education Officials and Many Organizations Are Represented

Scholarship and bursary winners of the 1931-32 term at Victoria College received their various awards at special ceremonies held in the Victoria High School Auditorium yesterday afternoon, attended by Provincial Government education officials, representatives of local organizations and members of the college staff. Percy H. Elliott, principal of the Craigdarroch Institution, presided.

Among those seated on the platform were: Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education; Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., of the Native Sons of Canada; Herbert Anson, of the Men's Canadian Club; Dr. Edward B. Paul, former principal of the college; Trustees J. L. Beckwith and J. M. Campbell, of the Victoria School Board; J. M. Patterson, Inspector of Schools for Saanich; Mrs. P. Taylor and Mrs. H. Smith, of the Women's Canadian Club; Major and Mrs. P. V. Longstaff, Mrs. Herbert Anson, Miss Kathleen Agnew, W. Cagney, Miss K. Rose, Miss J. A. Cann, Miss Jean McIntosh, Miss H. R. Humphrey, E. J. Savannah, G. P. Black, and Mrs. Golden, of the University Women's Club.

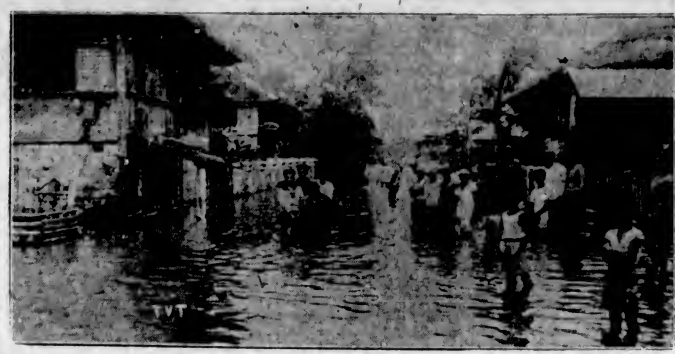

REVIEWS WORK

An extensive review of the past year's activities at the college was given by Principal Elliott, who expressed thanks on behalf of the college to the visiting guests. He also expressed the regrets of Magistrate George Jay, chairman of the school board, and Ira Dilworth, high school principal, at their inability to attend.

The enrollment this year was slightly below the mark of the preceding year, Mr. Elliott stated. This, however, was due to circumstances brought about by the establishment of the four-year high school course. He had hopes of a large increase next term. The maximum for the present staff, he said, was 300 students.

Mr. Elliott referred to the work of students of the last two terms had NAGA, P.I., was under water for several days after the overflowing of a river, September 14. The water remained out of banks for more than ten days, flooding the city to a depth of one and one-half meters in places. done for the college. Their contributions had been greatly appreciated. Another appreciative fact of the past term was that of the fourteen pupils enabled to continue college studies through Government bursaries, six were receiving scholarships or bursaries.

Student self-government had proved most successful in the past term, he continued, and had created a spirit of fellowship among the collegians. Mr. Elliott stressed the need for an auditorium and science building for the local institution. For ten years, he said, it had been necessary for the students to come to the high school daily for science work.

MINISTER SPEAKS

Following the presentation of awards, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe spoke briefly, congratulating the prize winners, "not for winning the prizes," he said, "but for obtaining certain knowledge which will carry you on through life." He referred to the power gained by a student in storing knowledge and maintaining their college studies.

The Victoria Women's Canadian Club 200 bursaries awarded to the boy and girl making the highest standing in the Junior matriculation examinations, the I.O.D.E. bursary and the Cecilia Green Memorial Scholarship were presented earlier in the year to Miss Elsa Lovitt, Raymond Jones, William Holbourne and Miss Beatrice Hastings, respectively.

PRIZE WINNERS

Following were the prize winners announced yesterday, who received their awards from representatives of the organizations presenting the prizes:

Royal Institution and Frank Eaton Memorial scholarship, John D. Grant; Agnes Deans Cameron scholarship, Miss Eugenie Caldwell; Carol Copland; Kiwanis scholarship, Gerald Ward; University Women's Club scholarship, Katharine Youldal; Men's Canadian Club scholarship, 1931-32, Russell Twining; 1930-31, Lawrence Wallace; Kathleen Agnew scholarship, Cyril Chave; Quila Nichol bursaries, Miss Elizabeth Garrett, Miss Deborah Eliza and Harold Herd; Native Sons of Canada prize, Donald Purves; special second year mathematics prize, Alexander J. Marling; and special proficiency prize, Jacques Fox.

ZONING FOR CITY URGED

Chairman of Vancouver Commission Gives Advice to Public Bodies Here

Urging the city of Victoria to take early steps towards the formation of a town planning commission, Arthur G. Smith, of Vancouver, gave valuable suggestions in this respect at a luncheon meeting held yesterday at the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He suggested that in carrying out such a plan Victoria should co-operate with Oak Bay and Saanich in making the plan a comprehensive one.

The Victoria Women's Canadian Club 200 bursaries awarded to the boy and girl making the highest standing in the Junior matriculation examinations, the I.O.D.E. bursary and the Cecilia Green Memorial Scholarship were presented earlier in the year to Miss Elsa Lovitt, Raymond Jones, William Holbourne and Miss Beatrice Hastings, respectively.

As the capital city of the province and with a reputation as the loveliest city in the Dominion of Canada, Mr. Smith said that it was not to be expected that Victoria would be called upon to do all the planning. The Province should come to the assistance of the city, but the Victoria should take the lead. When the city prepared the plan, the Province would no doubt come to its aid.

LAYING PLANS

The speaker said that there was an immense amount of information to be gathered before a plan was agreed upon. He pointed out that should be prepared and the commission would then lay out the city, divided by main streets about every half mile. Populations of districts and prospective populations were all necessary to be shown in working out the plans.

The necessity for a civic centre was an important matter. This should be, if possible, on one of the main streets, but while it would so front the sides and the rear, it should be located so that they would be protected from business congestion. It should be on high ground and in a commanding position if possible.

In zoning, Mr. Smith declared that order and proportion were the keywords. Under this heading the speaker took exception to the regulations in Victoria. The cutting down of the area for single family homes to one district, Rockland, was a mistake, he felt. Areas should be protected for single family homes so that the modest residences as well as the more palatial ones might be safeguarded. A whole area could be destroyed in a residential way through the fear of an apartment house being erected therein.

FUTURE NEEDS

In Vancouver provision was made for the allowing of the corner grocery and the drug store within a quarter of a mile of each residence. Gas stations without repair shops were allowed for the convenience of the residents, but provision was made for these keeping back from the street line as were the residences.

Zoning was necessary, Mr. Smith said, in order to provide for taxation to carry on the affairs of the city. It was really a case of whether a city could afford to do without a zoning plan.

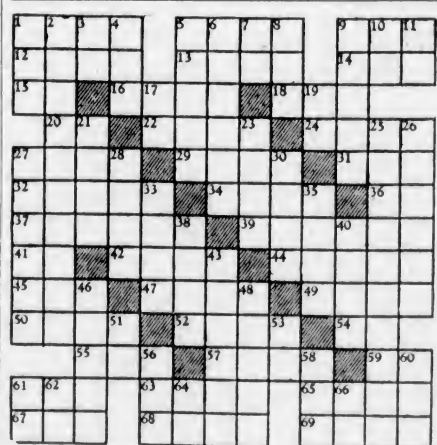

Members of the senior Chamber of Commerce were present, as well as Mayor David Leeming and members of the Council and members of the Real Estate Board. P. E. George, chairman of the Junior Chamber, presided.

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

SCOUT RALLY IS PLANNED

Approximately 500 Youths Will Be Here From Northwestern Districts

Victoria will entertain representative Boy Scouts from this province and the states of Washington and Oregon over the week-end, November 25-27. The gathering is what is known as the Big Youth Movement in connection with this organization, and it is expected that between 400 and 500 will be present here for the event.

An appeal is being made to the citizens of Victoria to act as hosts of these visiting boys during the period mentioned.

W. Solway, of Vancouver, executive commissioner for British Columbia of the Boy Scouts, in addressing the Rotary Club this week, said that for about ten years these conferences had been held annually. Boys would be coming from as far south as Portland and east to Spokane.

In stressing the importance of the gathering, Mr. Solway alluded to the work which these boys had in hand. The men who had grown up in the past twenty or thirty years had made "a big mess" of the world. The best duty they could now perform was to help the boys who were coming on to take their places, "to clean up the mess handed to them."

He appealed to the citizens of Victoria to open their homes to the boys during their conference here.

MATERIALISM PERVADES AGE

Professor T. Larsen Addresses University Extension Body

The dangers of materialistic thought in connection with the present time were painted before the gathering in Victoria College, Thursday evening, by Professor T. Larsen, of the University of B.C., when he addressed the University Extension organization.

Taking as his subject, "The Elizabethan Period" and its influence upon the literature that followed, Prof. Larsen said the writers of the Elizabethan period, which extended beyond the reign of the great queen, had marked the turning of thought from the medieval trend to the modern. It was the beginning of the Renaissance which had continued on to this time.

The age of Queen Elizabeth was associated with the heroic age of England. It was in truth the age of great achievement for that nation. The speaker pointed out that Elizabeth herself no small share in the change was to be attributed.

QUEEN'S INFLUENCE

She initiated a national policy for England in foreign affairs. In refusing the throne of the Netherlands, she had manifested her national pride in her own country, which she continued to foster until it became a nation-wide.

In the matter of religion she also altered England. The burnings for religion of the reign of Mary ceased with her accession. Any executions that took place under Elizabeth were for treason, not for difference of religious faith.

The love of the actual soil of England and pride in the nation gave rise to heroic acts and the literature of the age reflected it. The love of England was associated in the life and the writings of the people with love for the person of the queen.

MATERIALISTIC PLUNGE

The speaker, applying the development from that time to the present, pointed out that a plunge was taken into materialism from this freedom of thought which had continued to the present time. The so-called idealism of the present seemed to him to be more a following of the principle that honesty was the best policy. As an instance, he referred to the demand for the cancellation of war debts, not because it was right, but that in the long run it would pay.

Selfishness was behind the tariffs, he said. Relief for the unemployed was not so much from love or charity, but as a salve for a social conscience and as a protection from red socialism. A change of heart was needed, and he was afraid that the world would not come into right ideals until things got much worse.

The Renaissance set right in the place of duty. Philosophy today began in skepticism and ended in skepticism. Contemporary science was in a blind alley and did not know where to turn. They had mistaken a working method for something that had solidified. It did not follow that what could not be proven did not exist.

MACHINE DANGERS

Prof. Larsen stated that they had made science and philosophy masters. "The machine is running away with us." The radio and the talkies are debasing our speech. The motor car is upsetting our social order and destroying our home life. The world has been industrialized by machines and Japan has displaced Lancashire in the trade of India, China and America in turn will be industrialized.

Reason, said the speaker, could not deal with the vital elements, with life and love. The life principle was outside the work of the scientist.

The same applied to literature, which was the exploitation of experience. A survey showed that in gaining the whole world, they may have lost their souls.

The Renaissance in emancipating the races from the authority of the church and its dogmatism might have gone to the other extreme and overturned all authority, and in doing so had overturned all faith.

The Elizabethan, if he lost faith in God, retained faith in man. It appeared as if the note of ecstasy in freedom which dominated that period might probably never be heard again.

RAILWAY LEGISLATION

In a Bill now before the Federal Parliament provision is made for legislation governing railway transportation, and primarily designed to bring about an era of economy in the conduct and operation of the two transcontinental systems. It is an outcome of the report of the Duff Transportation Commission, a body created to discover ways and means to put an end to the regime of extravagance which marked national ownership. The Bill incorporates the recommendations of that Commission. Provided much of the legislation embodied is strictly enforced the people will have reason to welcome a more economic dispensation affecting transportation than has maintained for several years past.

The Board of Directors of the Canadian National Railways is to disappear and be replaced by a board of three trustees. The control exercised by the Board of Directors was purely a nominal character. So far as is known they simply registered approval of plans prepared by the President of the system. The personnel of the Board was selected sectionally and for political reasons without any regard to railway knowledge. The trustees now to be appointed will, presumably, be men of a calibre in whom the country will have confidence. That is essential, since the trustees are to have full power to control the state-owned system without consultation with the shareholders or with the Government. In this respect it is just possible that too great power is being delegated, because, where the taxpayers money is involved there must be responsibility accepted by the Government and Parliament provides for a greater measure of co-operation between the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railway than has maintained in the past. It provides that there shall be joint use of facilities wherever such is deemed advisable. It provides, moreover, for elimination of services so to avoid duplication, where duplication is not desirable from an economic standpoint. This is one of the outstanding features of the Bill, and the necessity for such economies was strongly stressed in the Duff Commission's report.

The new legislation provides for a greater measure of co-operation between the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railway than has maintained in the past. It provides that there shall be joint use of facilities wherever such is deemed advisable. It provides, moreover, for elimination of services so to avoid duplication, where duplication is not desirable from an economic standpoint. This is one of the outstanding features of the Bill, and the necessity for such economies was strongly stressed in the Duff Commission's report.

There is provision in the legislation for the settlement of differences of opinion that may arise between the two transcontinental railway companies. A tribunal, composed of the chairman of the Railway Commission and a representative from each of the transcontinental systems, is to be created. Matters affecting major differences of opinion will be submitted to this tribunal which will have power to make and enforce decisions. If the need of the new legislation is adequately appreciated by the railway companies, and if the spirit of economic management is the first consideration affecting all plans for the future, it may be doubted if the services of the tribunal of appeal will be required except on rare occasions. It will exist, however, as a warning that transportation as a whole, where the railways are concerned, is to be conducted in an economic way.

The Bill has been introduced in the Senate, and in the explanation of its provisions by Senator Meighen there is expressed that it will be considered calmly and in an unbiased way. Mr. Meighen says the Government "is not absolutely wedded to any special clause in the measure." That will afford Parliament the opportunity of considering the legislation from the non-party standpoint. It is conceivable that there will be some apprehension about the unlimited powers which it is proposed to give to the new Board of Trustees to control the affairs of the state-owned system. Possibly in this respect the Bill may be subject to amendment. There is no body created by Parliament not responsible for expenditures which should not be responsible to either the Government or Parliament for its actions. That should be a sine qua non of government. The first summaries of the new legislation indicate its desirability in every other respect. It is obvious, however, that more mature thought should be given to the unlimited powers which it is proposed to give to a Board of three trustees. It is essential that the elected representatives of the people should have some check on those powers where national ownership is concerned, and where national funds are being expended.

INCREASING INTER-EMPIRE TRADE

When Britain adopted protection on March 1 last preferences were granted to Canada and the other Dominions to extend until November 15. Shortly after the coming into force of the new British tariff policy Mr. Mackenzie King pointed to the fact that the preferences were going to be wiped out on November 15 because of the attitude taken by Mr. R. B. Bennett at the Imperial Conference of 1930. Instead of being wiped out these preferences have been continued for a term of five years, and have been extended to include a large number of additional Canadian farm products, other Canadian primary products and a long list of Canadian manufactured articles. Mr. King is now opposing these preferences and their extension although some months ago he deplored their possible loss in view of a problematical failure of the Imperial Conference at Ottawa. Herein is a striking illustration of political inconsistency.

The only conclusion to be reached from the attitude of Mr. Mackenzie King is that he does not want Canada to have trade with Great Britain or the rest of the Empire if any foreign country suffers because of Imperial trade treaties. He closes his eyes to the fact that Canada's trade has benefited already because of the preferences maintained when Britain adopted tariffs. What those benefits have been were recently explained in Parliament by Dr. Manion, the Minister of Railways. The conclusion he reaches is that these benefits will multiply when the Trade Treaties of the Imperial Conference have had a chance to operate. Mr. Mackenzie King, despite the facts of the situation, is mostly concerned with the effects of a growing inter-imperial trade on this Dominion's commerce with other countries. Obviously he does not believe in an Empire made as self supporting as possible. In the meantime Dr. Manion has shown that even before the additional preferences have come into force Canadian exporters have benefited largely by the original British preferences. We quote: "In September, 1931, we exported to the United Kingdom $15,137,000 worth of goods, while in September, 1932, our exports were valued at $19,492,000. Even in a time of world depression our trade with the United Kingdom is improving. It is true that this is a diversion of trade, but, I repeat, we are for this diversion of trade if the diversion is to our own country. Due to the treaties with Australia and New Zealand which were negotiated largely by the Minister of Trade and Commerce on behalf of Canada, our trade with these countries shows a substantial increase. Our exports to Australia in September, 1931, were valued at $427,800, while in September, 1932, they had risen to $648,600. The figures for New Zealand are $229,000 and $410,000 respectively. I submit that these figures demonstrate that the treaties and agreements negotiated by this Government are of benefit to this Dominion."

DEATH FOR PETTY THEFTS

It is lucky for their tenure of life on earth that all agitators do not live in Russia. During the first three days of September in the Soviet realm there were twenty sentences of death, which is the penalty for "counter-revolutionary activities." Some of the criminals were women found guilty of stealing communal property. All those sentenced had taken grain or other foodstuffs from State farms. In any other land these crimes would have been classified as petty thefts. The Soviet authorities explain their terrorist action by saying that the harvest has fallen short of expectations and the minor losses created by petty thefts cannot be tolerated. Undoubtedly such thefts should be punished, but not by death. The London Daily Telegraph says that "there is no record in modern times of a government inflicting punishment of such incredible barbarity for even major crimes against property. In this case the offences particularly aimed at are petty thefts, committed for the most part because the pilferers and their families have not enough to eat, and are too poor to buy bread—for the paradox of peasants buying bread is one feature of the enormous chaos that Soviet rule has made in Russian agriculture."

Mr. Henry Ford is a mechanic who in his spare moments becomes a philosopher. Although one of the merchant princes of a machine age he says that people cannot eat or wear machines and that if the world were one vast machine shop it would die. "When," says Mr. Ford, "it comes to sustaining life we go into the fields." Mr. Ford is changing his viewpoint. His fortunes have suffered through over-production.

The mental attitude of the people towards present-day economic conditions is somewhat of a reflection on the lack of character-building in state education. Under any and all conditions national strength is dependent on uninterrupted processes of character-building.

HOME AGAIN

The old gate swings with broken catch. Below the hawthorn's dusty white. The cheeping little chickens scratch. Where once the garden beds were bright. The kitchen door is open wide. The ragged window curtains sway. The thin, sweet odour steals outside. Of fragrant apples laid away. What matter dust and knocking hough. The weedy path, the unwashed pane. I have been long away, but now, O heart! I have come home again. —Dorinda Willis, in The Australasian.

Note and Comment

By R. H. D.

For courses month with occasion.

The Toronto Globe submits the question to the people of Canada in a leading editorial which we take the liberty of reprinting as proof of the fact that there is at least one Liberal newspaper in Canada which has the courage in a crisis to espouse the principle of patriotism as against the opportunism of parliament. Following is the article in full:

"Without doubt it is the privilege of the Opposition at Ottawa to criticize the Empire trade agreements and to explain how much better it would have done. The wisdom of such a course at this time is to be doubted, for it is observed that Mr. King's statements were quickly echoed by Sir Herbert Samuel, and it is evident that if Mr. King on Parliament Hill and Sir Herbert Samuel at Westminster had the deciding votes the Canada-United Kingdom agreement would be torn up forthwith. On the other hand, it is greatly to be feared that if they sat down to draft a substitute the task would never be ended by their public utterances. They might, it is true, compromise in order to get the job done, and if so would they be acting very differently from the delegates who recently gathered at Ottawa, determined to agree before they went home?"

Few papers supported the Ottawa Conference more enthusiastically than The Globe, for the reason that it was an Empire Conference promising adoption of a policy which would strengthen the bonds as well as commerce of the Empire. So far, there is no reason to doubt that this has been done. If, as the Leader of the Opposition states, there was a Tory conspiracy, then it can only be said it was the first conspiracy to which all sections of the Empire were a party at which it was possible to lay down an Empire programme. As a matter of fact, it is probable that Mr. Bennett's policy is more in harmony with Mr. King's than Mr. Bennett's. The present Australian Government is lowering the tariffs of its predecessor, and the present New Zealand Government is lowering the tariffs of its predecessor. The obvious conclusion is that the Ottawa gathering was one of compromise, and that the Empire trade, with a view to increasing prosperity and cementing Empire bonds, is the only way to success. If every delegation stood pat on the technicalities of the Empire, it is difficult to see how the round table would be more serviceable than the mails for expressing opinions. This is not to say that the Empire cannot fail to consider the accomplishment a vast gain. Mr. King does not reject the regular tariff, and he is developing cannot fail to consider the accomplishment a vast gain. FISCAL THEORIES

Sir—In a leading article yesterday you quote the Governor of the Bank of England to the effect that no one sees the way out of the world's disorganization, and that "nothing impedes business like frozen credits."

In today's paper a Labor resolution to be moved today in London states the problem of unemployment is a social problem, incapable of solution by tariffs or free trade. Today you also publish a letter from Mr. Alfred Fleischer which alleges that, given human greed of gain, production for use instead of profit is not feasible.

These three statements, taken haphazard, impel me to draw your attention, or that of your correspondents, to a suggested solution (not a new one but it has just come to my notice).

People sometimes make fun of the depression, and no doubt there is a lot of malingering. But from all parts of the world news reaches us pointing towards a debacle of incalculable magnitude still approaching. The man in the street wants to know why. And, like others, I have been asking myself for years back. The conclusion for me from the endless variety of nostrums, is that which you quote Mr. Norman as saying. No one understands the trouble, and so no one has the knowledge, let alone the power, to prescribe for it. It is good to have authoritative acknowledgment to that effect. Statesmen, economists, bankers and theorists, consumers, merchants and producers, Bolsheviks and capitalists, rich and poor, Fascism and democracy, have all failed to explain overproduction or overcapacity for production and yet failure in supply, and the two startling symptoms of world-wide unemployment and distress. The strong Nationalist is in the same boat as the international Socialist; the protectionist is in the same predicament as the free trader.

The other day I came across a book in the public library which professes to deal with all the points. It attacks money, as used now and in the past, as the source of the trouble. The being impossible, or possible only on a small scale, and a world machinery being necessary, currency was invented as a medium of exchange, a convenience. If it were severely restricted to that function, most of our troubles would disappear. But money, which is not wealth, got a strange hold on commodities, which are real wealth, and has thrown a monkey wrench into the works. This has always caused local troubles in the past; and, as the whole world is now intimately interconnected, the damage has now at last appeared on a colossal scale. The origin of the trouble is the function of money as a medium of exchange, and as the whole world is now intimately interconnected, the damage has now at last appeared on a colossal scale. New Pastor Honored at Reception

A reception was held last night by the Ladies' Club of the New Thought Temple in honor of Mr. Louis A. Winner, the new pastor in charge of the temple. Mrs. W. Ellis, the president, and Mrs. James Elrick, were the convener of the affair, and received the guests, who numbered more than 125.

Mr. A. Hood was the chairman for the evening and introduced Mr. Winner, who later addressed the gathering. A programme followed, which included solos by Mrs. Batten, Miss Letta Cody and Mrs. J. B. Shaw, while recitations were given by Mrs. A. Pearson and Mr. C. Freer. Miss Jessie Pollock gave the invocation. The new pastor, Mr. Winner, was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Winner, and his daughter, Miss Winner. The service was held at 8 o'clock.

Victoria Operatic Society Delights Large Audience With Performance of "The Geisha"—Singing and Staging Make Great Appeal

SUCCESS which attended the Victoria Operatic Society on the occasion of its first night of this season's presentation, "The Geisha," might well be the envy of many a professional company, and from first to last the performance was characterized by a swift-moving swing. Happy music, moments of brilliant acting, more than a dash of sparkling wit and humor and a glorious medley of color and rhythm, blended together in creating an atmosphere of first-class fun, and the audience was left with a real sense of cheerful well-being.

It is many years since Victoria has had a taste of "The Geisha," and it undoubtedly agreed with last night's audience. The play, written by Sydney Jones, deals with the arrival of H.M.S. Turtle in sunny Japan, where, in the Tea House of a Thousand Delights, the officers meet the charming geisha girls. The arrival of Lady Constance Wynne completely alters the situation, and the adventures of the sprightly Molly Seamore, one of the guests, lead up to a predicament which is only unraveled by the wily O Mimosa San.

As Reginald Fairfax, Harry Davis was delightful. His voice, which always makes a great appeal, was well suited to the role of the officer and he acted with a sparkling naturalness and irresistible charm. In Lady Constance Wynne, the dignified English visitor, Dolly Williams had a part well suited to her ability as an actress, and Emma McConnan was a charming Molly Seamore.

The part of the Marquis Imari, chief of police and governor of the province, was played by Leslie Hardie, and Dudley Wickett as Dick Cunningham was one of the outstanding solos. Members of the clergy of the Diocese of Columbia occupied seats in the chancel. Through the illness of Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, St. John's Church was represented by E. E. Richards. There was also a large delegation from the Eklis, of which the late Mr. Mortimer was a member, and representatives of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion and Women's Auxiliary.

The casket was covered with many floral tributes sent by the many friends of the late Mr. Mortimer. At the graveside the Anglican burial service was read and the Eklis' ritual was recited by J. W. Lorrimer, exalted ruler. The pallbearers were Rev. K. E. Smith, Rev. Alan Gardner, Rev. A. M. Acheson, Rev. S. Ryall, Rev. F. Comley and Rev. C. Chapman. Burial was at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Dewhurst Stakes Won by Hyperion By Two Lengths

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 28 (CP)—Competition for the classic races of next season, including the Derby, is going to be keen, judging by the performance of the juveniles in this season's late cluster of great races for two-year-olds.

Hyperion started at 100 to 7, Jeumont Dene at 20 to 1 and Lochiel at 6 to 1. Six ran the race at seven furlongs.

WORK BOND ENDORSED

Campaign to Provide Employment This Winter Is Now Being Organized

Six offices have been placed at the disposal of the committee, which will shortly conduct a campaign to sell Human Interest Bonds for the purpose of providing work for the unemployed this winter.

James Parfitt, chairman of the committee, announced last night following a meeting of the executive that he had received endorsements of the scheme from every quarter. R. C. Nichols, editor of The Times; J. L. Tait, business manager of The Colonist; A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C.E.R. Company; S. J. Shalla, manager of the paper department of the B.C.E.R. Company; J. Watson, manager of the Hudson's Bay Company and William Spencer, director of David Spencer, Ltd., have endorsed the campaign and in each case offers to sell the bonds at the stores and offices have been made.

WILL ADVERTISE—The Hudson's Bay Company and David Spencer, Ltd., also have offered to advertise the bonds, while the B.C.E.R. Company has placed two offices at the disposal of the committee for the campaign.

Col. T. B. Monk will be asked to officiate as director of the campaign, and an answer is expected some time today. Bonds probably will be printed next week and the campaign, most likely, will get under way the second week in November.

The City Council will be asked to provide the necessary funds with which to conduct the campaign, inasmuch as it is for civic relief, and the committee has no funds on which to rely.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE—Alex Stewart, member of the Chamber of Commerce and advertising manager of The Colonist, and Victor Clark, of the Clark Advertising Agency, have agreed to act on the publicity and advertising committee and will nominate a third person to act with them.

The bonds will be issued in books of five dollars each. The books will contain five bonds with two coupons of fifty-cent value each attached. Citizens will use these coupons to pay for unemployment of men or women on jobs about their homes or elsewhere. The bonds will be good until March 31, 1933, when all bonds unused will be turned over to the city to be used in whatever project they may be deemed advisable for the relief of the unemployed.

In the case of those who are unable to provide work, but wish to contribute to the fund, they may buy bonds and turn them over to the city. The city will provide work of a public improvement character. In this case the bond will obtain three dollars' worth of work for one, inasmuch as for every dollar's worth of work done by the city in relief of the unemployed and Dominion Governments each contribute one dollar.

Mr. Mathews' statement was brief. He produced a copy of "The New Programme for High and Technical Schools," as set out by the Provincial Department of Education, and read the following paragraph:

"The syllabus of physical training for schools, 1919, which is accepted as the manual work by the Strathcona Trust, contains exercises that are not improved."

Mr. Mathews said that "if the Provincial Government feels that it has a perfect system of physical instruction, the purpose of my campaign is defeated." At a previous meeting he had announced that, if elected, he would seek to revise the present system of physical education in the Saanich schools, which he felt, would stand improvement.

A brief address of welcome was given by Rev. E. F. Church, after which games were enjoyed. A selective programme was given by guest artists, Miss Merle North singing two selections, "Let All My Life Be Music" and "I Know," accompanied by Mrs. John Gough. Mr. Oscar McComb played "The Canebrake" and "Schon Rosmarin," accompanied by Miss J. Wilson.

A new artist was introduced in the person of Mr. Vaughan Barker, a reader and impersonator of unusual ability. He recited two character pieces, "The Difference" and "Old Soldier," his last number being a humorous selection impersonating a Lancashire lad reciting "The Shooting of Dan McGrew." Rev. J. H. A. Warr contributed two solos, "In the Garden of Tomorrow" and "Crossing the Nile," accompanied by Mr. Edward Parsons. The pastor brought the programme to a close with two brief recitations from Henry Drummond, "Johnny Cousin" and "Little Bateaux."

Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock by the Ladies' Aid.

MUST REGULATE OWN EVOLUTION

Doctor Says Medical Progress Gradually Eliminating Influence of Natural Selection
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP).—Future improvement of the human race may depend upon regulation of its own evolution by saying who shall be fathers and mothers.
So Dr. Walter P. Wilcox, of Cornell University, reported to the American Public Health Association today. He said medical progress "gradually eliminated the influence of natural selection, that is, selecting by the premature death of the unadapted, or what has been called 'lethal selection,'" and added:
"If progress is not to be checked or turned backward it would seem that society must develop other forms of selection, like selection for marriage or for parenthood, to play the role filled by lethal selection in uncivilized or semi-civilized groups."

Young Women Give Much Personal Aid to the Needy

Anniversary of Social Service Work of Junior Women's Auxiliary to Jubilee Hospital Shows Variety of Assistance

The Autumn dance of the Junior Women's Auxiliary of the Jubilee Hospital, which takes place on Monday at the Victoria Royal Yacht Club, signifies the anniversary of the inauguration of the social service work of this efficient and popular organization. Previous to last October the society, which was started some years ago through the efforts of Mrs. Hermann Robertson, had devoted itself largely to obtaining funds to assist the hospital treasury.

A year ago the members divided themselves into seven committees, each of which is charged with some form of personal service, more particularly to needy patients. So popular did the new objectives and methods prove themselves that the membership rose to nearly one hundred during the succeeding months, and a large amount and variety of valuable assistance was given to the hospital authorities.

Of these the transportation service is one of the most useful. A member becomes responsible for one day in every fortnight to be on call for chauffeur duty. If an outside patient is to be brought to the hospital for treatment, or if a convalescent is to be taken to his or her home, a member is ready with her car. Mothers with their little ones are given a free and comfortable ride home. Groups of convalescents are taken out for a drive. During the first six months of the year the hospital authorities called for help from the auxiliary members in the case of 109 patients.

DIET LOOKED AFTER
In January the newly-created diet committee began its work. The young lady to whom is assigned a certain patient visits her charge on the return home, and under the direction of the doctor provides a prescribed diet as long as may be needed. Thirty-eight convalescents received assistance of this sort.

VOCATIONAL WORK

Babies and children make a special appeal to the members, who are always welcome visitors to the children's ward. Here the members of the vocational committee spend several afternoons a week and direct the children in the making of toys, playing games, stringing beads and such recreative and educational activities of the ward. A doll's house was built last winter, the children taking part in roofing and decorating this wonderful edifice.

The auxiliary furnished the attractive babies' room, called the "pink room" because of its color scheme, and put in two of the beds. A stock of layettes is provided. On three Mondays each month the auxiliary meets as a sewing circle, which keeps a cabinet supplied with maternity articles for sale. There is the clothes room with a nice supply of garments for those in need of them. Summer of a diathermy added a very useful instrument to the equipment of the X-ray department.

The president of the auxiliary is Mrs. K. B. F. Deane, the secretary is Miss Jean Campbell, and the treasurer, Mrs. W. R. Parker.

Salt Spring Wedding Is Solemnized

SALTSPRING ISLAND, Oct. 28.—A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mark's Church, Salt Spring Island, when Irene, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Oswald, of Vancouver, was quietly married to Mr. Jack Abbott, eldest son of Mr. Frederick Abbott, of Long Harbour. Rev. C. H. Popham officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in an ensemble of sultan blue jersey cloth, with corsage of tiny zinnias of pastel colors. Her hat was of navy blue felt, trimmed with two shades of blue ribbon and two feathers of blue and white, and a white fox fur. She was attended by Miss Betty Abbott, sister of the bridegroom, who, as maid of honor, wore an attractive three-piece costume of cornflower blue jersey cloth and black hat. Mr. Kenneth Halsey was best man. The wedding music was played by Mrs. G. B. Young and "O Perfect Love" was sung during the service.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, "Hylands," where the young couple received the congratulations and good wishes of their friends. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

The bridegroom's present to the bride was a handsome traveling bag and to him the bride gave a set of dress coat studs. The rooms at "Hylands" were decorated with zinnias and chrysanthemums, the table with white and pink roses, and in the centre the wedding cake, surrounded by a silver vase of tiny pink roses.

Weddings

SCRIMSHAW-YOUELL
In the presence of a large gathering of friends, a pretty wedding took place at the Garden City United Church, when Rev. William Allen presided in marriage Florence Grace, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Youell, and Mr. Henry Scrimshaw, of Manitoba. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, looked charming in a long dress of white satin, with a bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of carnations and fern. Miss Violet Youell attended her sister as bridesmaid, attractively dressed in an ankle-length dress of peacock blue embroidered crepe de Chine, her bouquet being of carnations and fern. The groom was supported by Mr. W. Bates. During the signing of the register Mrs. Allen sang "Because" and Miss Elsie Pratt played the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin." Mr. F. Hamilton and Mr. William Hoy acted as ushers.

The church was tastefully decorated by friends of the bride, under the direction of Mrs. J. Hobden, and the bridal party stood beneath an arch of Autumn leaves and flowers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Dalmeny Road, where relatives and a few intimate friends offered their felicitations to the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Scrimshaw will make their home at Gordon Head.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP).—October, before it disappears, may be written down as the month which brought a revival of two-piece dresses. They are being seen these days in all the smartest places. The two-piece models of the current revival succeeded in combining smartness with practicality, and appear in such varied fabrics as swirling collar treatment accented dresses seem to be gaining in popularity, with wide drop shoulders (arity, having the advantage of being both chic and practical for elbow) and sleeve fullness massed at the

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

Whole Church to Work To Build Up Lost Fund

Church of England in Canada Assumes Task of Replacing Clerical Endowments Lost Through Maladministration by Manitoba Official

The Church of England in Canada assumes responsibility to raise in their entirety the episcopal and clerical endowments lost through the maladministration of funds by an official of Prince Rupert's Land Synod in Winnipeg. This announcement was made in the last issue of the Canadian Churchman by the executive committee of the Missionary Society of the church, under the signature of Canon S. Gould, its general secretary.

The general principle governing the resolutions, according to Canon Gould, is that the bishops and clergy, together with the officials, missionaries and other members of the staff of the M.S.C.C., provide the funds to keep the church going, and that the laity provide the funds for the restoration of the episcopal and clerical endowments of missionary dioceses.

There will be a levy of 7 per cent on the stipends furnished by the M.S.C.C. to carry on the work. It is computed that this will meet three-fifths of the total current demands. Already under the terms of the resolution the bishops concerned have been mailed cheques for two months' stipend. In addition to this levy, an appeal will be made to all bishops and clergy of the Canadian church for annual contributions extending over a period of three years beginning October 1. It is hoped that these special contributions will provide the remaining two-fifths needed.

LAITY RAISE ENDOWMENT
Upon the laity of the church is laid the burden of restoring the endowments that have been seriously depleted or entirely lost. The amount of the loss is not mentioned, but according to press accounts, in excess of half a million dollars. These funds constituted the episcopal endowments which insured the support of the bishops of missionary dioceses of Moosehide, Keewatin, Athabasca, Mackenzie River and Yukon, and also the clergy endowment fund of the diocese of Keewatin and the ordination candidates' fund of the diocese of Athabasca. The bare mention of these dioceses shows how widespread is the financial devastation caused. Subscriptions to the restoration endowment fund, which will be promoted by a committee composed entirely of laymen and women, will extend over three years, beginning January 1, 1933.

DIOCESES ARE MERGED
Apparently with the view of effecting economies in administration of the missionary dioceses involved, the dioceses of Yukon and Mackenzie River will be grouped under Dr. W. A. Geddes, at present bishop of the latter see. Bishop A. H. Sovereign, formerly of Vancouver, who was made bishop of Yukon recently, will accept the bishopric of Athabasca, which was in charge of Bishop Renison, formerly rector of Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, until he resigned to become successor of Canon Cody at St. Paul's Church, Toronto.

The executive of the Missionary Society is composed of Archbishop Fleming, president, and chairman of executive; Canon S. Gould, general secretary; Dr. T. B. R. Westgate, field secretary; Ven. A. I. Williams, honorary treasurer; R. A. Williams, accountant. An one of the repercussions of the financial disaster is the New Outlook a statement, in view of recent press announcement concerning the losses of the pension funds of a sister church, in which he stresses the security of the funds under his care.

Jewelry and Gold Offered For Missions

Rowell, in his Sunday morning talks. Tomorrow morning Mr. Rowell's message will be "The Horns of the Altar." Church of England To Mark Centenary Of Notable Sermon

ONE hundred years ago next July, in the city of Oxford, England, there was preached a sermon the repercussions of which have spread over the world and are perhaps today stronger than ever.

This was Rev. John Keble's deliverance upon "National Apostasy," which J. H. Newman, later Cardinal Newman, said was the beginning of the Oxford Movement, from which has issued the Anglo-Catholicism of later decades.

In tomorrow's issue attention will be called to this movement, which must not be confused with the Oxford Group Movement.

STARTS TALKS TO YOUNG MEN

Rev. E. F. Church Will Discuss Boys' First Fight—Morning, Elgar Choir

The services in Metropolitan Church tomorrow will be exceptionally interesting, owing to the visit in the morning of the Elgar Junior Choir (Schubert), and a solo, "Love" (May Van Dyke), by Yvonne Findlater.

At 7 o'clock Edward Parsons will give an organ recital and will include the following selections: "Andante Cantabile from Quatre in D" (Schubert); "Largo from 'New World' Symphony (Dvorak); Cathedral Music (Wareing); Angelus (Massenet).

The evening service will be given by the beginning of a series of sermons to young men to be preached by the pastor, entitled "Great Moments in a Young Man's Life." This talk will be followed by the choir, who will sing "His First Fight," and the soloist, "The Lord Is My Shepherd." In the evening Mrs. W. A. Jamieson will be the soloist. The evening anthem will be "As Now the Sun's Declining Rays" (James).

ST. MARY'S RECTOR PREACHES TWICE

Many Societies Meet at Oak Bay Church—Rev. Canon A. E. del. Nunn to Begin Classes

The following services will be held in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, tomorrow: Holy communion at 8 o'clock, matins and sermon at 11 o'clock, and sermon at 7 o'clock. The church school will meet at 9:45 and 11 o'clock.

On Monday the Junior W.A. will meet at 2:30 o'clock in the hall; on Tuesday the Ladies' Guild at 2:30; on Wednesday the A.Y.P.A. at 8 o'clock; and on Thursday at 10:30 o'clock.

The rector holds to begin confirmation classes early in November, and would be glad to receive the names of those who wish to join.

To the retiring moderator of the United Church, Rev. Dr. H. Oliver, a beautifully illuminated tablet was presented by the artist, Rev. Dr. J. Ogden, of Vancouver, at the recent meeting of the general council in Hamilton. It contained a resolution of appreciation of Dr. Oliver's services, passed at the February meeting of the Presbytery of Vancouver, and it was a gift from Dr. Ogden, who spent 530 hours in its execution.

Rev. D. M. Solandt, D.D., assistant book steward of the United Church and acting manager of the Ryerson Press, has been appointed to succeed the late Rev. S. W. Falls, D.D., who was for many years head of this efficient and prosperous publication company. Dr. Lorne Pierce, the literary adviser of the Ryerson Press, recently received the degree of D. Litt. from Laval University in recognition of his services in interpreting French literature to Canadian readers.

MINISTER PREACHES AT EMMANUEL ON "CHRIST A SURPRISE"

"Christ, a Surprise to Humanity," is the subject of the Sunday evening sermon by Rev. M. S. Richardson in Emmanuel Baptist Church. "God Is Love," is the theme of the morning sermon.

The anthem for the day is "Morning, 'O How Amiable' (Lauden); evening, "To Thee, O Lord Our Hearts We Raise" (Nickson). A song service of old and familiar gospel songs is included in the evening service.

MRS. E. WILLIAMS TO SPEAK AGAIN
By special request Mrs. E. Williams will again be the speaker at the Spiritual Science Temple, 1406 Douglas Street, on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. There will be lectures at the close of the lecture, which will be "Trance." On Monday, at 8 o'clock, a psychometry circle will meet, and on Tuesday, at 2:30, the Ladies' Aid will hold a session. Mrs. Williams will conduct a "Trance" circle at 8 o'clock on Tuesday.

MANY QUERIES TO BE FACED

Dr. Davies Promises Frank Treatment of Long Question List Tomorrow

Questions vibrant with intense interest will be a feature of the sermon period at the City Temple tomorrow evening, when an extended list of interrogations will be dealt with in Dr. Davies' frank and fearless manner.

"Do you believe in thought transference?" will be one of the questions which will elicit some startling information from first-hand facts in the knowledge of the speaker.

A reflex of the spiritualistic discussion of the last few Sundays is shown in the question, "What were your reactions to any spiritualist seance you may have attended?" The startling query, "Who is the world's biggest crook?" will bring an unequivocal answer from the Temple pastor.

Other questions for discussion at the night service will include: "What, if any, is the value of a third party?" "What year do you figure good times will return?" "Can we hope for a reasonable permanent cure for the problem of unemployment?" "What is the influence of 'sound' movies on the children?" "Why do children cheat and steal?" "Are children born of elderly couples better equipped than the progeny of younger parents?"

JESUS AS GOSPEL IS SERMON TOPIC

Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell to Be Morning Preacher at St. Andrew's—Rev. H. C. Fraser in Evening

The pulpit of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will be occupied tomorrow morning by the minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, B.A., who will take as his theme, "Jesus Himself the Gospel" (John 1, 6). In the evening, in the absence of the minister, the service will be conducted by Rev. H. C. Fraser, M.A., of Victoria.

The soloist for the morning service will be Arnold W. Trevett, who will sing "Babylon," a composition by Watson. The choir will sing Macfarlane's anthem, "The Lord Is My Shepherd." In the evening Mrs. W. A. Jamieson will be the soloist. The evening anthem will be "As Now the Sun's Declining Rays" (James).

PLAN CAMPAIGN TO RAISE FUNDS

Colonel O. M. Bigger, M.D., national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, was present at a luncheon meeting held in Spencer's dining-room on Thursday, when thirty representative citizens attended to discuss preliminary measures for a campaign to raise funds for the work of the Red Cross in this province.

Colonel Bigger outlined the work of the society throughout the Dominion, making special reference to the Junior Red Cross, which is increasing its membership with surprising rapidity.

Sir Richard Lake, K.C.M.G., president of the Provincial Red Cross, reviewed the work of that branch and thanked the many men and women who had met there to take part in the task of insuring continuity of the great work which is being performed under the Red Cross flag.

What Today Means to YOU

"SCORPIO"

If October 29 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m., from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 a.m. to 9:45 a.m. and from 8 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. October 29 luncheon will apparently have a tendency to stir up the emotions. Joy and happiness, sorrow and despair, love and hate, all these will be vividly and strongly expressed. It would seem to be a day of uncertainty and doubt, but keep your thoughts on high, and let common sense and sane thought rule the emotions.

The child born on this October 29 will be a fearless little person. He will probably be adventurous but not inclined to get into scrapes. He will have a rather keen sense of humor which at times will lend itself to practical joking. In school, he will not be classed as an outstanding student, but in all probability will get more out of this training than the average child. Athletically inclined.

Born on October 29, you are a tolerant and understanding nature. You enjoy the outdoors and it is in the country that you are happiest and can best relax. If you cannot get away from the daily grind and into the outdoors at frequent intervals, you are inclined to become an irritated and nervously disposed individual. This is not all your true self, for in your proper surroundings and under favorable conditions, you are an extremely calm and unruffled person. You enjoy life, and seek to live it calmly and sanely.

Your life work, which most probably is in the commercial world, though you could readily adapt yourself to some phase of educational activity, is simply a means to an end. You do not live for your work, neither do you live for your money. You will never become vastly rich nor famous. You will be envied by your many friends for your joyous outlook on life, and you and yours will be referred to by them as "that happy Smith family."

If you are a woman, you have an inborn knowledge of children. With your even temperament and natural liking for children, you would make a splendid teacher. You are probably an excellent mother, and the delighted parent of more than just one youngster. You are not the most economical housekeeper. You delight in your home.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL HEALTH ARE ONE

You have perhaps seen the great work that has been done in preventing tuberculosis and in curing it, in preventing heart disease, in enabling diabetic patients to live and enjoy life, in the prevention of typhoid fever, malaria, smallpox, diphtheria, rheumatism, pernicious anemia and other ailments that formerly carried off many thousands yearly.

It has been interesting, the last few years, to see how the problem of mental ailments has been approached by those in charge of these unfortunate patients in our Government institutions. So well is this work being done, that of every ten patients entering, about six are able to return to their homes or to work.

However, it is now realized by thoughtful physicians that while the results obtained at our mental hospitals are very gratifying, with a great many of these patients it has been given to the prevention of diphtheria, scarlet fever, tuberculosis, and other ailments.

Dr. A. Grant Fleming, Montreal, tells us that mental diseases should be dealt with in the public health programme of preventable diseases. He suggests that there should be more mental clinics where individuals who feel that they are in need of help or whose family and friends feel that they are in need of it, may go and have their mental ailment diagnosed, that is put in its proper department or division of mental ailments, so that the best advice and treatment can be given.

He suggests further, that just as parents are now instructed about other ailments—diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox—and about the proper feeding and care of children, so also should they be instructed as to mental ailments. This would mean that parents would take their children to these mental clinics just as naturally as they take them to the clinics to prevent the ailments above mentioned.

In other words, mental health is not a thing apart from physical health; mental and physical health are one. It is only common sense that we should try to prevent mental ailments as thoroughly and systematically as we try to prevent physical ailments.

SCHEDULES FOR CITY CUE LEAGUE ANNOUNCED

BOB KRUSE WINS FROM H. KRUSKAMP

Portlander Wins From Denver Grappler—McLaughlin Pins Wolfgang

Bob Kruse, the Portland wild man, ran into quite a bit of trouble in Hardy Kruskamp, Denver, last night at the Pacific Stadium, but came from behind to take two out of three falls after Kruskamp won the first. The bout was fast and full of action. In a speedy semi-wind-up, Jack McLaughlin, Vancouver, added another to his string of easy victories when he took the measure of Floyd Wolfgang, Portland, in straight falls. McLaughlin always had the edge. In the curtain-raiser, Lloyd Fendley and Roy Hopkins, both from Victoria, wrestled four fast rounds to a draw. Both laid out a fall.

The main event opened with Kruse clamping on one of his favorite headlocks. Kruskamp broke the hold and came back with the same. But Kruse got a wristlock which the Denver man had trouble in breaking. Kruskamp then got annoyed and in quick succession clamped on a headlock, a crucifix and finished with a short arm scissors. Kruse groaned and squirmed violently and eventually broke the hold to get a wristlock. Kruse held the hold for a while, but Kruskamp eventually got a headlock, but Kruskamp broke the hold and tossed him through the ropes. Kruse finished up among the spectators. Both men used head and wristlocks when Kruse climbed back, and the round ended with Kruskamp breaking a hold.

THE FIRST FALL
The third round produced the first fall and some of the best wrestling of the bout. Kruse started off with another headlock and Kruskamp came back with a body scissors. The Wild Man got a good arm stretch, which Kruskamp used to his advantage. Kruskamp went after his man with a series of arm blows. Kruse appeared groggy and finally fell flat to the mat. Hardy then fell on to take the first fall with a body slam. Kruse didn't like this at all, and at the start of the fourth came and slapped Kruskamp's face. The two men staged a semi-boxing bout and Kruse finally got Hardy in a corner, slammed a couple of good ones to the jaw and fell on him for the second fall.

The third fall came early in the fifth round when Kruse, breaking a body scissors, caught his man for a leg hold and body press, pinning Kruskamp's shoulders to the mat to win the bout.

TIN KIT TO MEET BURNS IN MAIN GO

Chinese Middleweight Faces Boston Grappler This Evening at Tillicum

Leong Tin Kit, Chinese middleweight grappler, who boasts of victories over the majority of high-class material in the Northwest, will appear in the local ring this evening after an absence of some weeks, when he tackles with Cyclone Burns, of Boston, in the eight ten-minute-round main event at the Tillicum gymnasium, tonight, at 8:45 o'clock. Bobby Byland, Minneapolis, has been booked for the five-round semi-wind-up, while local preliminaries will open the card.

Tin Kit is a high class wrestler and will enter the ring a favorite to pin Burns. The Chinaman is clever, fast and a sound puncher. Burns is a rough and rugged, and may turn the tables on the Oriental. Both grapplers are in fine condition and a great bout is expected.

The Byland-Draper bout should provide plenty of action for the fans. Byland takes plenty and gives just as much. He showed here last week and gained a draw with Bunny Martin. Draper will be making his first appearance.

CANZONERI MUST MEET B. PETROLLE

Lightweight Champion Told to Defend Title at New York on Nov. 4

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (CP).—The New York State Athletic Commission today ruled that a contract signed last summer for a lightweight title bout between Tony Canzoneri, the holder, and Billy Petrolle was still good and that Tony must defend his title for Madison Square Garden November 4.

Sammy Goldman, Canzoneri's manager, had protested that the contract had been voided when the bout was postponed from last August 8, but he was overruled by the commission.

The squabble over the contract followed alterations between Goldman and Garden authorities over allocation of tickets to Canzoneri's friends.

Frankie Battaglia, Canada's leading contender for the world's middleweight crown, threatens to completely ruin the latest brain child of Madison Square Garden Corporation—the middleweight elimination tournament.

James Joy Johnston, promoter, offered the Winnieperger 10 per cent of the receipts for a return bout with "Click" Devlin, the former Vancouver mill worker.

Battaglia flatly refused the terms through his local representative, Sol Gold, and as Frankie is the main attraction the tournament can be considered a perfect flop if he is not pacified.

Walter Hagen Sets Pace in Open Tourney

Clarence Owens, Greenville, S.C., was second with 75-73-148.

List of fixtures for the first and second halves of all three divisions were announced. Winners of the opening half will clash with the second half champions for the silverware. MANY ROOKIES SEEKING PLACES WITH N.H.L. TEAMS

Thirty Players Trying Out With All Nine Squads

Ossie Osmundson Attempting to Make Grade With New York Rangers—Many Minor League Players Trying to Graduate to Majors—Many New Faces to Appear

TORONTO, Oct. 28 (CP).—Hockey's most polished crop of "rookies" in half-a-dozen years is battling the training camp doors of the National Hockey League, bent on a try-out in the big time. Fewer pride-of-the-town amateurs, but more graduates of the minor pro leagues than usual, are numbered among the thirty-odd candidates bidding for places on the nine N.H.L. teams.

Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers, finalists for the world's title last season, are hosts to the largest bands of fame-bound youths. Always a ready haven for promising youngsters, Chicago Black Hawks are stormed by almost as numerous a force. But generally the rookie crowd is smaller, but harder to turn down than the run-of-mine variety.

For perhaps the hardest team to break into, Rangers, Andy Aitkenhead, Regina-born goalkeeper of the defunct Bronx Tigers, and Alfie Moore, former netminder for Cleveland of the International League, are trying for a job only one of them can fill. Moore appears to have the call.

OSMUNDSON WITH RANGERS

Carl Voss, leading goal-scorer of the International last season, is assured of a forward position with Rangers, while Gordon Pettigrew, speed demon from Regina, is a good prospect for a Ranger job. He was with the Bronx team last season. Wilf "Twinkle" Starr and "Speedy" Osmundson are two Westerners attempting to graduate from the Springfield farm to Rangers, but with less chance of success.

Ken Doraty, of Syracuse, in the International, may be seen in a Toronto uniform this season providing he can withstand the challenge of Charlie Sands, of Port Arthur. Sands joined the Leafs last Spring too late to get into action. Bill Thomas, of Newmarket, and "Buzz" Boll, of Regina, two youths who starred with Marlboro amateurs last season before joining Syracuse, are possibilities to wear the blue and white of the Stanley Cup holders.

Two Edmonton amateurs, defence player Art Wiebe, and Louis Trudel, left winger, are at Duluth with Chicago Black Hawks, with a good chance of making the team. Epliverson has added two Calgary forwards from last season's Chicago Shamrocks to his string. Cam McPayden, left wing, and Clarence McKenzie, right, Burr Williams, of Tulsa Oilers, is slated for a defence position.

OLYMPIC STARS SIGN

Two of Canada's former Olympic stars are newcomers to the camp of Montreal Maroons. Giant Hack Simpson, defence man of the title-winning Winnipeg team last Spring, seems a sure thing for Maroons' rearguard, while Hugh Plaxton, cyclonic forward with a burning shot, will join his famous Verity Grad teammate of 1928—Dave Trotter.

Known as the shutout king of the American League two years ago, Paddy Byrne is also with Maroons bidding hard for the place between the posts. His chances are bright, as Maroons have been without the stand-out goal tender since Clint Benedict lost his eagle vision. Benedict lost his eagle vision. Benedict lost his eagle vision.

Cage Player Is Suspended for Rough Tactics

BASKETBALL dukes of the Victoria and District League started out last evening to curb rough play during the remainder of the scheduled season. Another of their first suspension of the season to Ken Fleming, forward of the 5th Regiment's Intermediate "B" quintette. Fleming was ruled out for two games for rough play during the 5th Regiment-Porters fixture last Monday evening at the Centennial gymnasium.

"This is expected to serve as a lesson to the players in the various divisions. Another case of this kind coming before the officials will be dealt with more severely. There has been far too much rough play going on, and it has got to stop," stated President Jack Taylor, after last night's meeting.

dict, equipped with special glass and mask, has announced a comeback attempt this season.

Gus Forslund, Port William hockeyist with Duluth of the American League last season, is "in" with the returning Ottawa Senators. Tommy Westwick, from Chicoutimi, Que., and Ray Kinsella, Toronto amateur, have ambitions to play for the Senators. And two home-bred amateurs, Wren Manners and Leo St. Denis, are bidding. Westwick is reported the best prospect.

Ronnie Martin, of Calgary, will wear the star-spangled sweater of New York Americans this season. After serving his probation with Buffalo Internationals, "Gangle-Shanked Shit" Evans, former West Toronto Junior, and Honey Kuntas of Kitchener, are a couple of amateurs trying out with the Americans and uncertain yet of success.

CANADIENS HAVE PROSPECTS

Montreal Canadiens' most colorful full time in hockey have not yet been on ice, but already have several live prospects and are looking for more new talent. Roger Cormier, right wing, and Leo Murray, of Providence; Jean Gagnon, younger brother of Johnny, and Bob McCutley, twenty-year-old, star forward, are in the running for places on Leo Dandurand's Red Shirts.

New pucksters will be seen in the line-up of Detroit Red Wings, last season's Falcons. Eddie Wiseman, centre ice player who led the American League last season, his second as a pro, and Gordon Brydson, who did the same trick a year previous, are working for Jack Adams and Jack McLean. They will flank Wiseman as they did with Chicago Shamrocks last season.

Shifty Emil Hansen, of Tulsa Oilers, is training with Detroit, but whether he will play in the major league with Chicago or the Red Wings has yet to be decided by N.H.L. governors. Walter Buswell, another American League defence star, may help to take the load off Reg Noble, of the Detroit rearguard.

Art Ross apparently has decided on sticking to players with major league experience. Although the Boston Bruin farm team, Boston Cubs, are training with the N.H.L. team in Quebec, reports from the camp indicate that none of the farmhands has succeeded in displacing a veteran.

McLarnin Pays City Visit

JIMMY McLarnin, known throughout the boxing world as the "Smiling Irishman," contender for the lightweight crown, now adorning the brow of Tony Canzonero, who arrived in the city yesterday for holiday with his friend, Ralph Rogers, of Vancouver. Jimmy is pictured above with his valuable German police dog. The Vancouver boxer is banking on a chance at the title by meeting the winner of the Canzonero-Petrolle bout, which takes place on November 4 in Madison Square Garden. McLarnin expects to step into the ring on November 19 for his chance at the crown. McLarnin and Rogers will stay in the city for a few days and then head back for Vancouver. The Vancouver lad just returned from the East, where he proved conclusively to Benny Leonard, one-time king of the lightweights, that they don't come back. Jimmy scored a sixth round.

Panama City Placed Under Martial Law

PANAMA CITY, Oct. 28 (AP).—Panama City was under martial law tonight following an assault on the Assembly by demonstrators angry over the Legislature's refusal to approve a bill cutting all rents 10 to 30 per cent. A group of civilians formed a guard unit, placing themselves at the disposal of authorities to assist in maintaining order in case of need. But the city was quiet, with the police in complete control.

After approving a resolution ordering the suspension in the city of constitutional rights of citizens, the Assembly adjourned today. It was reliably said the legislators will not meet again until October 31, by which time it is hoped the tension will have passed.

WORK BASIS IS CHANGED

City's Outside Staff Will Be Engaged on Three-Quarter-Time Schedule

Members of the city's outside staff will be placed on a three-quarter-time work basis starting November 1, it was decided at yesterday's meeting of the public works committee of the city council.

This change affects fifty-eight men. Six others will be superannuated, while three men will remain on full time. These three are the general superintendent of public works and his two assistants.

SALARY QUESTION

In connection with the salaries of these three men the council will take under advisement the question of whether to raise the salary of the general superintendent above that which he is getting now or to reduce the salaries of his two assistants, which at present are commensurate with the salary received by the general superintendent.

The new basis of work affects the maintenance, street cleaning and garbage collection men. They will work three weeks and lay off the fourth. The details of rotating the men on this basis will be left to the engineer and the city controller to map out.

TO SUBMIT REPORTS

P. M. Preston, water commissioner, was instructed to bring in a report on the skeletonization of the water works staff, while the parks committee was instructed to bring in a report on the picking of its staff on a three-quarter-time basis. There are ten permanent employees in this latter department.

Mayor David Leeming, in commenting upon the new working basis in so far as it affects the public works department, said that this was being done rather than laying off some sixteen men.

Four Women's and Two Men's Teams to Be Seen in Action

J.B.A.A. WHITES WILL MEET BLUES

Four women's senior "B" quintettes and two men's senior "B" squads will be seen striving to better their standings in the Victoria and District Basketball League this evening at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium. In the opener two J.B.A.A. fair sex teams, the Whites and Blues, will tangle, while Rayshines, undefeated leaders, and Standard Steam Laundry will clash in the second fixture in the women's division. J.B.A.A. and Normal School will hook up in the final attraction in the men's "B" section. The initial tussle will start at 7:30 o'clock, with Art Chapman handling the whistle in all three games.

Keen rivalry exists between the two J.B.A.A. teams and a close battle is expected. Coach Alan Wright of the Whites is sending his best bets against the Blues, who are directed from the bench by Wally Yeamans. The Spark sisters, Lou and Maude; Alice Lalonde, Edna Matthews, Eileen Esler, M. Edwards and Geri-Taylor will be in uniform for the Whites, while Coach Yeamans will bank on Isabel Crawford, Cathy Freeman, Buddy Elston, Lilian Laird, Charlotte Yeamans, E. Johnstone and Kay Miles to bring his colors through.

Standard Laundry turned in a fine game against Harmony earlier this week, and are bent on forcing the flashy Rayshines to the limit in quest of victory. Both teams will be strong, with the latter quintette favored to keep their slate clean of defeats. The final game is expected to be hard-fought, as the teams are well matched in all departments.

Leading Stocks at Eastern Exchanges Show Small Gains

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP).—The New York stock market scored a quiet but well maintained advance today, a number of leading stocks gaining to about 3 points and marking the third consecutive day in which the average price level had been moderately boosted.

Sales totaled 113,139 shares, nearly half of this total passing over the ticker tape in the final hour of trading.

Stocks which gained 1 to 2 points included U.S. Steel, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Case, American Telephone, Eastman, Baltimore, Ohio, American Tobacco "B," and Liggett & Myers "B." Gains of more than 2 points were made by Union Pacific and National Biscuit.

The supply of important news from industry was rather scant, but traders found food for thought in the continued gains reported in railroad earnings for September over August, some of these showing better net operating incomes than a year ago, and in improvement registered by oil companies in their quarter earnings over their 1931 figures.

The railroads were virtually the only feature of the bond market, most other listed bond categories plodding along in a dull and indifferent fashion.

Sales totaled 17,902,000 par value, which was slightly less than yesterday's aggregate.

Gains of 1 to 3 or more points were recorded by some loans of Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island, Denver & Rio Grande, Erie, Great Northern, Illinois Central, Kansas City Southern, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Frisco, St. Louis Southern, Southern Pacific, Southern & Western Pacific.

The utilities and industrials were mixed and quiet.

The United States Government section registered small gains, and the foreign department was rather inactive. An easier tone was displayed by the Germans, Canadians, Italians and Japanese.

Small advances were shown by bonds of Argentina, Finland, France and Peru.
